E=Waste Recycling Policy

Under the guidelines of the Central Government of India, E-Waste (Management and Handling) Rules 2016 have been notified. ONIDA stands committed to implement E-Waste Rules. E-waste has been defined as

"Waste electrical and electronic equipment. whole or in part or rejected from their manufacturing and repair process. which are intended to be discarded".

Whereas, Electrical and electronic equipment has been defined as

"Equipment which is dependent on electrical currents or electro-magnetic fields to be fully Functional".

In general terms e-waste is any end of life electronic product which is scrap and cannot be used in any manner e.g. air conditioners, refrigerator, batteries, television, mobiles, etc. Managing of e-waste is most important because it consists of harmful substances which can bring adverse effects to the environment as well as human life. By scientific disposal of e-waste we can save our environment and also prevent its potential negative consequences on human health. There is need to encourage recycling of all useful and valuable material from e-waste so as to conserve the ever depleting natural resources. Recycling end-of-life products is vital if we are to save resources and minimize waste.

Impact of improper handling/ dumping/ disposal/accidental breakage/recycling of E. Waste:

- Toxic material present in e-waste get mixed with earth, air, water etc and causes health Issues.
- Oil & Gases which is present in some of e-waste causes environment pollution. Batteries contains highly hazardous element.
- Burning of rubber & plastic in open area causes air pollution.
- Bad impact on human being, animal, and other animates.
- Wastage of natural resources.

How can you Recycle the E-Waste Products? (Do's)

- All electrical and electronic products are required to be handed over only to the authorized recycler for recycling and disposal.
- Keep the e-waste in isolated area, after it becomes non-functional/un-repairable so as to prevent its accidental breakage.
- You can also deposit your e-waste directly at the collection centers. For information of collection centers
